

Diocese of Algoma Lay Readers' Conference 2014 Webinars.

The keynote address by Bishop Stephen Andrews, and workshops by Rev'd Dr Jay Koyle [The Role of Layreaders on Congregational Development] and Rev'd Dr John Harvey [Role of Further Education for Layreaders] will be available via Web Conference Algoma [Webinar].

The Keynote address: Friday 26 September 7:00-8:30 pm;

Workshops #1 & #2: Saturday 27 September 10:00 am - 12:30 pm and 1:30-4:00 pm

Algoma webinars are available to anyone who registers and who has access to high speed Internet [Java plugin required], and computer speakers. Registering for any or all of these sessions also provides participants with the ability to replay any session anytime later. There is no cost to attend an Algoma webinar.

Please register for the web conferences by contacting webconferencealgoma@ontera.net or by calling Linda Langdon 705.476.0791. Please note that this registration is separate from registration to attend the LR Conference in person, [although people attending the conference are welcome to sign up for the webinars in order to have later access to the playback facility].
